Find the right solution for your client

Whatever the business purpose, super fast finance can get your clients out of a bind. But there's a few factors to consider before deciding the perfect solution for their needs.

Save the day or seize the moment

After 30 years in the Australian finance industry we've seen it all. We provide a range of custom loan solutions to Australian businesses so whether your client is a shop fitter investing in new equipment, or a real estate developer sealing the deal with short term funding – together we can find the right solution for their needs.

Questions to ask your client

When your client comes to you in their time of need, ask yourselves these simple questions to decide what finance solution could help them.

- When does your client need the funds by?
- How long do they need the loan for?
- What are they using the loan funds for?
- What can they offer as security for the loan?
- How are they going to repay the loan funds?

If you can answer these questions,
then you're ready to talk.
